

As someone with a severe to profound hearing loss, I am completely dependent on captioning for my TV watching. In spite of state of the art equipment, I am unable to understand the broadcast messages unless they are captioning. Progress has been made in providing captioning of television, live as well as programmed, but plersase keep the pressure on until captioning reaches 100 per cent.